This Week's Highlight

Procurement Management NFQ Level 8

The Certificate in Procurement Management (CPM) is designed for busy professionals employed in the SME and multinational sector, as well as the public sector, who seek to deliver concrete, sustainable results through effective procurement management.

The Certificate is the first university accredited NFQ Level 8 award in procurement studies. Completed on a part time/block release study basis, candidates will benefit from workplace targeted continuous assessment and University certification.

Applications for the September 2018 intake are now open and close on 31st August 2018.

iDDea's Sourcing Coordinator, Suzie Lynch, has just completed the CPM and has written about her experiences and how she benefitted from the course. For more information on the course and how you can apply, check out her blog by clicking below!
